Message from the President

Welcome to the first addition of NCJW Peninsula Section's Bulletin for the calendar year 2022–23. Thank you to our members for putting your trust in me and electing me to be your President. This is a responsibility I do not take lightly. I will endeavor to represent NCJW's best interests. The last two and a half years have been challenging for all of us. The lives of our members suddenly changed. But through Zoom we found a new way to communicate with each other. With the appropriate precautions, this year's NCJW Peninsula Section's board members are working diligently to bring to our members in person program meetings, events and lectures that are both educational and entertaining.

On September 29 our first Program Meeting will be held at Hewlett-East Rockaway Jewish Centre. Our speaker will be Talia Carner, noted author whose last book is "The Third Daughter". Please wear face masks to ensure the health of all. We have a wonderful Lecture Series planned for this year. There will be four lectures based on the topic of Long Island.

Broadway has been open for some time and we want NCJW to become part of the theater once again. Tickets are now available for the new Neil Diamond Musical, "A Beautiful Noise". Please call the office to purchase tickets. The Advocacy Committee has been working through the summer to present a program on Abortion Justice to be held at Temple Sinai of Roslyn on October 27. NCJW's Back 2 School Store is currently working on new ways of distributing items for children of need. Also, a special thank you to the staff and volunteers of our NCJW Thrift Shop who worked through the worst and the most challenging times of Covid to keep our store opened and available to our customers. The shop has beautiful merchandise and many customers. I am happy to say it is thriving and bringing in funds to support our advocacy efforts and community services.

With the appropriate precautions, this year's NCJW Peninsula Section's board members are working diligently to bring to our members in person program, events and lectures.

Our very own Abby Fox will be honored at the Long Island Section "Women Who Make a Difference" Luncheon, at Temple Sinai of Roslyn on September 14.

Congratulations to Susan Fox for being chosen as the recipient of The Hannah G. Solomon Award for the year 2022–23. This is the highest award given by NCJW and will be celebrated at our Founder's Day Luncheon in the spring of 2023.

With the approaching high holidays, I want to take this opportunity to wish you and your families a Happy and Healthy New Year.

— Fran Denny

THE VOICES THAT WOULDN'T BE SILENCED

Program Meeting: Thursday, September 29 at Noon

At Hewlett-East Rockaway Jewish Centre, 295 Main Street, East Rockaway
MASKS WILL BE REQUIRED – DOORS OPEN AT 11:00 AM

This event is free to NCJW Peninsula Section Members.
Cost for nonmembers: $18 or become a member at the door for $60.

SPEAKER: AWARD WINNING AUTHOR TALIA CARNER

Fleeing poverty, strife and pogroms of Eastern Europe in the late 1800s and early 1900s, over 150,000 Jewish girls who dreamed of "America" fell to the false promises of marriages and jobs by members of Zwi Migdal. Instead, this legal traffickers' union that operated with impunity throughout South America for 70 years, forced them into prostitution. Talia will reveal how the cries of these women, also shunned by the Jewish community, forced her to expose the most shameful chapter in Jewish history. She will also educate the audience about actions that can be taken today to abolish the horror of modern human enslavement in your own backyard.

Next Program Meeting: The Art of Storytelling and Disarmament Education to Counter Nuclear Threats

Guest speaker Dr. Kathleen Sullivan has been engaged in the nuclear issue for more than 30 years. Director of Hibakusha Stories, an education initiative that has brought atomic bomb survivors (hibakusha) to some 45,000 students, she produces nuclear themed films and projects that focus on art for disarmament. With the United Nations Office for Disarmament Affairs, she developed the disarmament education web portal.

Abortion Justice

CAROLE TOLKIN AND DONNA BIALOR – Advocacy Chairs

What can you do to right this terrible wrong?

Join NCJW Peninsula Section and Temple Sinai of Roslyn to hear speakers from diverse backgrounds and organizations tell their stories and discover the many ways that you can take action and make a difference.

This series of three programs will be held on October 27, December 15, and February 9 in person at Temple Sinai of Roslyn at 7:30 pm.

Our tentative list of speakers includes a NCJW National representative, the former president of ACLU, a rabbi from Rabbis for Repro, and representatives from the ProTruth and 73Forward campaigns.

As the Ethics of Our Fathers says: "You are not obligated to complete the work, but neither are you free to desist from it."

Please join us as we come together to learn what we can do after the overturn of Roe v. Wade. More information to follow.

Washington Institute 2022 Recap

DONNA BIALOR – Advocacy

If you want to understand what makes NCJW such a powerful and respected organization, you need to experience NCJW in action at Washington Institute.

On May 15, 2022, NCJW leaders and advocates from Sections across the country and from Israel met in person in Washington, D.C. I was honored to attend this year's Institute with Peninsula Section President Myra Garber and Section Administrator Bonnie Sperry. I was awed by the work that went into making this meeting an invaluable learning tool for maximizing our advocacy efforts. The theme this year was Leading Together, emphasizing the heightened power of individuals and organizations working in concert to reach shared goals.

The schedule for our 3 days together combined General Sessions, where everyone gathered to hear panel discussions and keynote speakers; breakout sessions devoted to the nuts and bolts of getting the job done; and time for schmoozing with and learning from NCJW leaders from around the country – an outstanding group of women!

Our National Leaders Sheila Katz, NCJW's CEO, and Dana Gershon, NCJW President, inspired us with their vision of what we could achieve together. We heard from politicians like Representatives Debbie Wasserman Schultz, Gerald Nadler and Kathy Manning and Senator Richard Blumenthal. We listened to Kristin Clarke, Assistant Attorney General for Civil Rights speak on the importance of continuing to press this issue through legislation and in the courts. Deborah Lipstadt, the recently-appointed U.S. State Department Special Envoy charged with monitoring and combatting antisemitism, explained the importance of her work. Ukrainian Ambassador to the U.S., Oksana Markarova, praised NCJW for our ongoing support of her country. She received a standing ovation.

Faith leaders across the rabbinic spectrum – from traditional to decidedly non-traditional – gave us their perspective on the intersection of faith and advocacy. Executive Directors and founders of organizations such as Mom's Rising, a gun control advocacy group; The Jews of Color Initiative; and the National Partnership for Women and Families praised the leadership and work of NCJW.

It was especially encouraging to hear from young women and men who have started new grass roots organizations such as Renee Bracey Sherman, the founder of We Testify, an organization dedicated to helping women share their abortion stories.

We also spent time in small groups learning successful advocacy strategies from NCJW national staff and trainers from other grassroots advocacy organizations. The energy in these sessions was contagious.

The culmination of the Institute was the Rally for Abortion Justice convened by NCJW and cosponsored by Hadassah. The thousand or so people gathered on the lawn in front of the Capitol heard an amazing array of politicians; faith leaders – and not just Rabbis; abortion justice advocates; and some ordinary people with a poignant story to share; raise their voices together in support of religious freedom and the right to control our own bodies. It was a truly moving experience.

I am so proud to be a part of National Council of Jewish Women!

Donna Bialor, Myra Garber, Bonnie Sperry

Several things stood out:

- ◆ The devotion of NCJW's national leadership to advancing the causes we support – you could feel it in the passion of their advocacy
- ◆ The respect that NCJW has as a leader in the non-profit advocacy arena – the excellent key-note speakers, panel members, breakout leaders and politicians who participated in the Institute were a testament to that.

The International Day of the Girl

PAM SHELDEN – Mentor, NCJW Peninsula Section Generation Next

Since October 11, 2012, Peninsula Section's Generation Next's teens, the younger group of NCJW Peninsula Section, have celebrated and advocated for the Day of the Girl. The Day of the Girl Child is an international observance day declared by the United Nations to recognize the marginalization of young women throughout the world by such injustices as breast ironing, genital mutilation, impaired or no education.

In the spirit of "Day," this years' teens, Sophia Gilleeny and Benjamin Tsukerman, Hewlett H.S. students, wrote letters to their legislators asking them to proclaim the day. Lest we in the United States feel complacent, with the recent Supreme Court decision to overturn of Roe v. Wade, the urgency of their message could not have been more timely as the pair recognized the injustices girls face in the United States, as well as throughout the globe (surely, the pair argued, the rape of a poor white Mississippi twelve-year old is as impactful as her parallel in any third-world country). The pair's letters of appeal for support went to their congressional and state and local leaders. At this writing, Sophia and Benjamin have received proclamations from State Senator Todd Kaminsky and Congresswoman Kathleen Rice.

On their return to school, Sophia and Benjamin plan to mount a campaign to involve business leaders and organizations as well as their school peers in recognition of the importance of the day, noting that strong, proud and healthy girls are the pre-requisite to strong families.

We congratulate Sophia and Benjamin who are well on their way to being the leaders of the future!

Advocacy / Education Film Series

Acting Our Age

◆ Sunday, November 13 at 2:00 pm on Zoom

We are all going to get old...if we are lucky! The alternative is surely unacceptable.

"Acting Our Age" is an engagingly insightful film about that process. Through the eyes of six women, ages 65-75, we are given some fresh, new perspectives on aging. The emotionally charged subjects of shifting body image, family life, death, and sexuality are considered.

Though our hearts and minds may still be creative, productive, and eager, society often typecasts women in less than desirable roles. Females, as opposed to males, are more quickly labeled with age-related stereotypes from aesthetics and physical ability to personal achievement and fashion choices. Already facing discrimination in many arenas, women are thus victimized again by ageism, a weapon to be used against them. The film offers a reframing of ageing, a time of immense freedom and liberation, unshackled by old expectations and ways of thinking.

Director/Producer: This is Israeli-born Michal Aviad's first movie for which she received several prizes. It was presented in several festivals to critical acclaim and broadcast in the prestigious documentary POV (Point-of-View) slot on PBS.

Reservations: Call the NCJW office to reserve a spot (516-569-3660). The Zoom link will be sent to you the Friday prior to the film screening.

125 Years of Synagogues on Long Island

◆ TUESDAY, DECEMBER 6, 2022, 1:30 PM

Brad Kolodny has photographed more than 600 synagogues in 13 countries over the last 30+ years including every synagogue building from Great Neck to Montauk. He has worked for The New York Times since 1996, is president of the Jewish Historical Society of Long Island and an active member at Midway Jewish Center in Syosset, NY. Brad's second book, "The Jews of Long Island 1705-1918" published by SUNY Press, was released in March 2022.

Long Island Seas and Pirates

◆ TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 2023, 1:30 PM

Bill Bleyer was a prize-winning staff writer for Newsday for 33 years specializing in history and maritime issues before retiring in 2014 to write books and freelance for the newspaper and magazines. He is co-author, with Harrison Hunt, of "Long Island and the Civil War" (The History Press, 2015) and author of "Sagamore Hill: Theodore Roosevelt's Summer White House" (The History Press, 2016); "Fire Island Lighthouse: Long Island's Welcoming Beacon" (The History Press, 2017), "Long Island and the Sea: A Maritime History" (The History Press 2019); and "George Washington's Long Island Spy Ring: A History and Tour Guide" (The History Press, 2021).

Houses and Gardens of the Gold Coast Then and Now

◆ TUESDAY, APRIL 4, 2023, 1:30 PM

Paul J. Mateyunas is a native to Long Island's North Shore, has been fascinated by the architecture of Long Island since his early youth. Schooled both in the United States and Italy, Paul holds degrees in business and art history and is a recipient of the Top Advocates for Preservation Award 2012 by the Oyster Bay Historical Society. His interest in historical preservation led him to work as a restoration consultant, which included sourcing everything from vintage lighting to antique paneled rooms Paul's second book, "Long Island's Gold Coast" was released in May 2012.

Back 2 School Store News – We Have Been Busy!

NATALIE ZEIGER – B2SS Steering Committee Chair

We will be partnering with Island Harvest for this project and items will be given to many of the agencies we have serviced before. Since the facility at Island Harvest is an indoor space, we will not ask our members to volunteer for sorting at this time.

All of us can be proud that NCJW will be providing necessary clothing to the underserved population. I thank everyone who volunteered to support this project. Should your help be needed, in a safe environment, we will reach out to you. Thank you, and stay well.

DISTRIBUTION OF CLOTHING WILL BE SOON!

Kids Closet to the Rescue, Meeting the Needs of School Children

PEGGY KLANG – Chair

What is Kids Closet? It's a way of reaching out to help children feel comfortable in school under difficult conditions. NCJW stocks schools with necessary items such as underwear, socks, tops and bottoms. We have volunteers restock the schools as the need occurs.

In lower grades children might soil themselves or spill almost anything on themselves. We needed to have an outlet to help them. Teachers can request a change for that child and bring her or him back into the class without any embarrassment. Teachers are also aware of children who might wear the same piece of clothing daily and request a few items to go home with that child.

A note from NCJW is given to the child to bring home so they know that this is a special gift from us. It is the aim of NCJW to assist children, women and families in need. This little piece of the pie is one way we meet our mission of improving the lives of women, children, and families.

Membership – Camaraderie, Knowledge, Enrichment and More

MYRA GARBER – VP, Membership

I want to welcome the members of NCJW Peninsula Section to the start of a new year. The 2022–23 club year presents a chance to return to in-person programs, forums, lectures. The last two and 1/2 years, most of my presidency, were tough for all of us. The pandemic forced us to transition to virtual meetings on Zoom to preserve the health of all. But this is a new day, and you will see the opportunities we present for live participation.

Our Life Members are the heart of our section. Many of you put your faith in our mission and joined at this level, a commitment beyond the ordinary, especially in these trying times. And if you renew annually, please keep doing so to further our mission of helping women, children and families. Encourage your friends to become a part of NCJW Peninsula Section. Bring them to our first Program Meeting on September 29th. Join a committee; see the opportunities we offer for camaraderie, knowledge, and enrichment.

Please help NCJW Peninsula Section to heal the world. You won't regret your decision!

Happy and Healthy New Year

As the New Year 5783 approaches we would like to offer you the opportunity of adding your name to our list of those wishing our members a Happy & Healthy New Year. As we are starting to return to a "new normal," some of us are still not comfortable gathering together. Adding your name will let your NCJW family know that you are thinking of them.

Your contribution will help support our Advocacy, Community Service and Educational programs. Each "one" line listing is $18.00 and will appear in our November-December Bulletin.

Listing style samples are:

On Thursday, April 28, Yom HaShoah, (Holocaust Remembrance Day) 950 middle and high school students from across Long Island, joined NCJW Peninsula Section on Zoom, to view a special presentation of the Documentary "The Barn".

Rachel Kastner, the film's producer, joined us from Israel to show her documentary and answer the students' questions. She also spoke about storytelling and intergenerational responsibility to remember the Holocaust.

The students' strong reactions to this experience were evident by the questions they asked such as:

- ◆ "How do we prevent these things from happening in the future?"
- ◆ "What was your grandfather's life like after the Holocaust?"
- ◆ "What can we do to support people who survived the Holocaust?"

And then came the thank you notes addressed: "Dear Rachel and Grandpa Karl" . . .

“ Thank you so much for sharing your struggle and journey through the Holocaust as well as after it. It was interesting to hear how you deal with your past. Personally, I think it would be hard to disconnect most of your emotions with the trauma you faced. It is astonishing to hear the accomplishments you made after your immigration into the United States like with your studies at Columbia. Even with such a "disadvantage" you still persevered and came out successful. I love how you said that you only focus your emotions on the future and stop dwelling on the past.” —Julian

“ Thank you so much for sharing your story with my class. When listening to you after the film I found it so inspiring how motivated you are to spread your grandfather's story to educate others. Your film and Q&A left me thinking about how I could help Holocaust survivors and help to prevent anything like the Holocaust from happening in the future.” —Emma

NCJW Peninsula Section and Rachel Kastner, hopes to bring this experience to more students, and others, in the future.

HERE'S THE SCOOP... WE NEED YOU!

Our Thrift Shop is looking for Volunteers.

We are bustling with customers and donations! The work is rewarding, but also can be physically demanding. This includes standing on your feet for a while, bending, reaching, hanging clothes, assisting packing boxes for off-season storage, and perhaps unpacking donations.

If you have time to commit to working with us, we would love to have you as part of our team. Our shop financially assists the many projects NCJW Peninsula Section supports.

If you are interested email Susan at:
